For Immediate Release

Link Airways welcomes friends and families, clients and colleagues, and tourists aboard on its newest Tamworth - Sydney route

Link Airways is delighted to officially be connecting Tamworth and Sydney with direct flight services commencing Monday 27 June 2022.

"We're proud to be expanding our network with direct flights operating between Tamworth and Sydney. This expansion is a significant milestone for us, as we are looking to enhance connectivity between these two destinations and fly friends and families, clients and colleagues, and tourists at their convenience," says CEO of Link Airways, Andrew Major.

Link Airways identified and acknowledged the strong demand for flights between Tamworth and Sydney from many local Tamworth businesses. Complementing the existing Brisbane and Tamworth route operating since 2016, the establishment of this new service will open growth opportunities for Tamworth business owners to expand their services and network across Sydney.

With a flight time of just over 60 minutes and frequency of flying twice daily, this service will provide business travellers from Tamworth and Sydney the opportunity to spend a full business day at their destination and return home that same afternoon whilst also facilitating the potential for weekend stays.

With a schedule of 28 return services per week, Link Airways aims to offer the most convenient and best travel experience possible. The new services will be operated utilising the airline's 34 passenger Saab 340B Plus aircraft. With a full inflight cabin service passengers can treat themselves to hot and cold beverages and premium snacks with complimentary wine/beer available during all afternoon and evening services.

Manager of Network Strategies and Development at Link Airways, Jeff Boyd, said "we recognise that Tamworth is a bustling regional city with so much to offer and look forward to complementing our existing Brisbane services with the new Sydney services. Whether you are traveling to Tamworth for business or to experience Australian music, art, and outdoor adventures or to Sydney, we look forward to welcoming you on board."

Link Airways is proud to cater for the Tamworth region's population of families, university students, businesspeople and tourists, who can now enjoy a reliable, efficient, and affordable travel experience to or from Sydney with fares starting at just $159 one-way all-inclusive.

The first flight will take off from Tamworth on Monday, 27 June at 7:00 am.
